THE BUFF CHRONICLES

NOTES FROM THE IPSC RANGE CHAIRMAN

This space is usually reserved for something humorous, IMHO, but this month I would like to devote the column to the subject of sportsmanship as applied to IPSC shooting.

The pursuit of prizes and wooden placks sometimes drives the best of us to acting immaturely in an all out total effort to win.

Now this winning of an award may be nice for the winner, but when it is done at someone else's expense I ask you all to consider the price.

We are all out here shooting and playing at games in the pursuit of recreation, fun, diversion--we want to get away from the pressures of jobs and business. We want to forget about family problems. We just want to have a good time and spend our leisure time pursuing fun.

If a shooter pulls an over competitive number in order to do better in a match--he puts all those around him in a state of NON FUN, and that's a drag. e.g. Our old friend the "undeserved reshoot" puts pressure on the RO. When appealed up to the MD, it ruins his day. If anyone else needs to get involved, their recreational pastime is compromised with inane bickering and arguing.

At a recent Limited match we had a situation which after hearing accounts (I didn't have the misfortune to be involved but heard about it later), I would describe as adversarial officiating. Two of our guys were in hyper competitive mode and were not cutting any slack for each other, and they RO'd each other on a couple of stages. There were questions raised of inappropriate scoring of penalties and requests for reshoots which were known to be undeserved. The MD had to get involved a several times and his day was much less fun than it should have been. All this bickering ended up being relatively meaningless in the overall standings and easily could have been avoided by a little less desire to win at all costs.

This incident was looked at by the Hot Shots Board which decided that nothing could be proved--so the matter was dropped. Feathers were definitely ruffled, but nothing was done about that incident.

HOWEVER as a result of this incident, I have instituted a new procedure for dealing with events raising questions of sportsmanship. The Hot Shots now have a Board of Control which will deal with any reports concerning issues of behavior or sportsmanship at the range and during the matches. Joan Wieder is the chair of the Board of Control and anyone can make a report to her (or to me) about any questionable incidents. Issues may be reported to the Board of Control by anyone--that is, someone who is not a party to the incident is able to report it and the incident will be investigated thoroughly. This Board of Control is empowered to apply sanctions to those violating the tenants of behavior and good sportsmanship.

Hopefully the existence of a venue to explore and enforce behavior will deter our group from further over competitiveness which goes beyond the bounds of acceptable deportment. into the realm of unsportsmanlike conduct.

IPSC Range Chairman

GOLDEN GATE CHAMPIONSHIP REPORT
BUFF SABOED BY WATER SPORTS

For the first time in nine years your fearless reporter shot the Golden Gate with a squad. Unfortunately he was sabotaged by evil mythian water devices and vile vials of green slime courtesy of the King's minions.

Out of six stages the Buffmeister managed to have one decent run, make that lurch. Beginning with the last stage as would befit a late middle aged person, I managed to start by dropping the tube of Elvis DNA for the first act after the buzzer beeped. Picked it up and shuffled off to mediocrity.

On to Stage 1 where there was one very low and perniciously vile port which caused my old fiend Mike to appear and not for the last time.

Stage 2 presented an array of poppers which I couldn't seem to hit with less than 2 shots each. Another slow burn (as opposed to blazing run).

Stage 3 had lots of little plates which were even harder to hit than the nasty poppers on 2. The only thing I did right here was managing to reload before I ran out of ammo. That was luck and it didn't help enuf.

Stage 4 of Smyth (that's with an S) design was a zero. I succeeded in dropping the little gizmo which I was supposed to carry in my pocket and picked up 32 or so procedurals along the way. Too bad since I did it fast (just ask my wife) for me.

Stage 5 was a really good run. No misses, no procedurals, no mistakes, no extra shots. Less than twice the best time of the day and I was tickled pink--or was that not enuf Bullfrog?

All in all the word inauspicious was given a new meaning at Golden Gate 97. To think I could have shot through and had an excuse. At least I had a nice name badge and got home by midnight.

Thanks to all the people who helped clean up after the banquet and especially to Wes Lew, Rich Theilen, and Brian Agron who along with me were out in the dark picking up the tables and chairs from the vendor area at 10:15 p.m.

From the trenches,

July Limited Match Report

Ken Hashimoto .MD

Many thanks to my CRO's for their help. The challenging stages for us to shoot would not have been there without them. Steve Sui, Russ and Randy Wakida, Steve Wong, Alan Jung, Rod Maeda, Jon Ng, Randy Coates, Wesley Lew(stats) and Joe Solano Thank-you!!

We had 40 shooters show up for our July Limited Match and 13 open shooter shooting for practice.

Congratulations to our match winners: Angelo Spagnoli won stages 1, 2, and 5; Rod Maeda won stages 3 and 4.

Hey! Alan Samuel, maybe you should retire that slammin' jammin' .40 cal. and stick to your stock Para .45!! You did well with it. 1st B.

The two lucky shooters of this match were Kathy Littman (scores didn't add up) who probably would have had 7 procedural; and Jon Ng (poppers didn't fall upon calibration) Two poppers, lucky guy. Unlucky person was Dan Ruff who requested calibration of two poppers during the match and they both fell.

To the 14 open shooters trying to beat

July 13 1997 Revolver match

3-GUN, RIFLE, & SHOTGUN MATCH RULES

LIMITED EQUIPMENT RULES

GENERAL

Weapons used in competition shall be serviceable and safe. No optical sight is allowed on any pistol, rifle, or shotgun. No compensators may be used. The standard military A flash hinder, or similar, is OK. Through the barrel and/o slide porting is considered a compensator. A weapon can be replaced for use in later stages or strings of fire with an acceptable similar weapon if it becomes unserviceable during a stage or string of fire.

PISTOLS

The maximum barrel length is 6 inches. There are no weight limits on weapons. No extended front sights to increase sight radius. Maximum magazine length is 140mm.

RIFLES

Will be military service rifles or their civilian equivalent. No bipods may be used. A permanently mounted bipod may remain attached to the rifle but may not be used. Rifles must be equipped with battle sights (no target sights).

SHOTGUNS

Shall be 12 or 20 gauge either semi-auto or pump actions. The shotgun magazine tube may not extend more than one inch past the end of the barrel. No magazine tube may exceed 26 inches regardless of barrel length. Any device on the weapon used to carry extra ammo must be secure enough to hold the ammo during rigorous movement.

AMMUNITION

9mm Parabellum is the minimum allowable pistol caliber. There are no power factor requirements for ammunition. No tracer or armor piercing ammo allowed (no SS 109). 5.56mm or any other ammo with a steel or tungsten core or penetrator).

TARGETS

Standard USPSA designated targets will be used in matches. USPSA Scoring will be followed. A shot on a paper target whose outside diameter touches any part of the scoring ring will count for the higher value zone.

HOLSTERS AND GEAR

Holsters must be practical, safe, and suit the pistol. Any security device on the holster must be in place at the start of each string of fire or stage, e.g. flaps down and snapped thumb breaks snapped in place, etc. Magazines may not be used from pockets unless the pocket is specifically designed for such use, such as tactical vests, etc.
